The musical score is written on three staves. Each staff begins with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The notation consists of diamond-shaped notes and vertical stems. The lyrics are printed below the staves, with hyphens indicating syllables that span across multiple notes. The first staff ends with a double bar line. Below the third staff, there are two sets of empty staves, each consisting of five lines, for additional musical notation.

The image shows a page from a musical manuscript. It features two staves of music, one for the 'Secunda pars' and one for the 'Basis'. The 'Secunda pars' staff is on the left and is decorated with a large, ornate initial 'N'. The 'Basis' staff is on the right. The music is written in a single system with five lines. The notes are diamond-shaped, and the staff has a treble clef. The lyrics are written below the staff, aligned with the notes. The text is in Latin and is printed in a Gothic-style font. The page is aged and shows some wear and tear.

The musical score is written on five staves. The first staff begins with a large, ornate initial 'A' in a decorative frame. The notation consists of diamond-shaped notes on a five-line staff, with a C-clef at the beginning of each staff. The lyrics are printed below the notes, with hyphens indicating syllables that span across multiple notes or staves.
